Robert Cunningham Bound Over.

The examining trial of Robert Cunningham, of Lexington, charged with involuntary manslaughter, came up in the county court Wednesday morning and resulted in his being held to the November term of the Bourbon grand jury in the sum of $500 with his father, C. D. Cunningham, as surety.

Cunningham was the driver of the ill-fated automobile in the wreck of which on Tuesday night, September 5, near here, Glenn Elkins, of Lexington, was killed and Howerton Gratz received injuries from which he is confined to a Lexington hospital with little hope of his recovery. The warrant for the arrest of Cunningham was issued at the instance of County Attorney George Batterson, who conducted the prosecution at the examination.

Warren Fisher, one of the four occupants of the automobile at the time of the collision; Charles Coleman, the colored man, who was driving his buggy and going to his home on the farm of John Brennan and who met the party just before the accident; Drs. C. T. Daugherty and W. K. Dudley, who gave medical assistance to the injured, and Charles Webber, were the witnesses who testified for the prosecution.

Mr. Fisher, who occupied the rear seat with Glenn Elkins, said that while he could not see the speedometer of the automobile he thought that the speed was about forty miles per hour. The witness said that the speed rate was low until after the party passed Elkhorn. The party of four left Lexington at about 11:15 o'clock on the night of the accident.

Coleman said that he was returning to his home at the time of meeting the automobile party. He said he first saw the automobile when it was on the Monterey hill and that he thought that he would be able to clear the double curve at Shanty Spring before the automobile would come up, and that he was compelled to pull off the road to avoid a collision.

The defense was represented by C. A. McMillan and E. M. Dickson, of Paris.

Bourbon Female College Opens.

The Bourbon Female College opened Tuesday morning for its session of 1911-12, and from the statement of Prof. M. G. Thomson the institution never enjoyed a more successful operating, all of the available accommodations being used and it was found necessary to utilize the cottage in the yard to accommodate some of the boarders. The local patronage is the best it has ever enjoyed.

This college belongs to the Association of Colleges, which includes Campbell-Hagerman, Hamilton and Sarge, of Lexington; Caldwell, of Danville, and M. F. C., of Millersburg, each having the same course of study which includes a general course by which pupils may receive a diploma, but not a degree, to attain which it is necessary to take a fuller and longer course in the languages and mathematics. The faculty remains the same as last year with the addition of Miss Annie Rayle, assistant teacher of mathematics, of which department Mrs. Anna Bell Goddard is the principal.

A Card.

Editor Bourbon News.—I desire to correct a rumor that is being industriously circulated which reflects on the action of the City Democratic Committee in the division of the election officers for Paris No. 3. The names of Messrs. Reynolds Becroft, Wm. Hukill, Jr., J. H. Fuhrman and A. T. Rice were, among others, given to the committee and under the decision of the committee to alternate the sheriff in each precinct, the sheriff in No. 3 would have fallen to the candidates styling themselves "the new Council." Mr. Rice did not want to act as clerk and as Mr. Reynolds Becroft is one of the best election clerks I have ever known I asked one of the committee to put Mr. Rice as sheriff and Mr. Becroft as clerk which was done. I made the request for this reason only and as soon as I was informed that there was some dissatisfaction over the selection I sought Dr. Wm. Kenney and told him my reasons for asking that Mr. Becroft be made clerk and said to him if the candidates on his ticket wanted to make a change and substitute Mr. Rice for clerk and make Mr. Becroft sheriff that I would cheerfully acquiesce and while I had not consulted Messrs. W. O. Hinton and J. S. Wilson I would guarantee they would enter no objection. I said the same to Mr. Ardery. There are less transient voters in Paris No. 3 than in any precinct in Bourbon county and there never has been any trouble at the engine house. Even if I knew Henry Fuhrman, Alex Rice, Reynolds Becroft and Judge Hukill were all against me I would be willing to risk them, knowing no election booth ever held officers who would be more fair or more honorable in the discharge of their duties.

Very truly,
CHAS. E. BUTLER.

LIQUID CURES ECZEMA WHERE SALVE FAILS

In regard to skin diseases medical authorities are now agreed on this: Don't imprison the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A true cure of all eczematous diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid.

WASH THE GERMS OUT. A simple wash: A compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Thymol, and other ingredients as combined in the D. D. D. Prescription, penetrates to the disease germs and destroys it, then soothes and heals the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25-cent trial bottle will start the cure, and give you instant relief.

O'Rear's Promises to Raise Prices.

One of the most surprising statements made by Judge O'Rear in his oratorical swing around the State is that when he is elected Governor the tobacco men will get twelve cents for their tobacco. This is very praiseworthy, but the Judge doesn't say how he is going to force the tobacco trust to pay that much for all the tobacco that is raised in Kentucky. Has the Judge ever heard of the law of supply and demand? It affects all the products of the soil. If he proposes to overthrow this theory of the economists, and pass a law that the State shall arbitrarily fix the price of tobacco at twelve cents, why can he not force the consumer to pay $1.50 a bushel for wheat, and a proportionate price for corn and oats? If we are going to enrich the farmer by Legislation, let us make him wealthy beyond the dreams of avarice. Wheat and corn and oats grow out of the ground just as tobacco does, and there is no good reason why the farmer should not get a big price for all his products if the Legislature can step in and make the people pay the price that the farmers themselves agree should be paid.

There never was a greater exhibition of demagogery than this appeal to a class by Judge O'Rear. He knows what he promises is impossible of performance, and his attempts to get the votes of the tobacco growers by any such hocus-pocus is a reflection on their intelligence.

The man who works in the tobacco field is the hardest worked man on earth, and he is entitled to the highest possible price for his product, and every honest person, irrespective of party, rejoices when the price reaches a figure that will repay him for his labor, and leave him a generous surplus.

Every piece of beneficial Legislation on the Statute books in the interest of the tobacco growers was put there by the Democratic party, and Judge O'Rear will have a difficult task to convince them that he is the one man who can be trusted to give them fair play, and to hold to strict accountability whoever oppresses them.

A Republican Appointee.

Secretary Bidwell, who stole over $1,200 from the Racing Commission, was the personal appointee of Governor Willson. He was correspondent of the Louisville Herald during the last campaign, and his adulation was so thick that it sickened everybody but Willson. In gratitude for his sycophancy the Governor gave him an office at Frankfort, and then dumped him on the Racing Commission. When the Democrats get in power again there will be a good look at the books.

A Reasonable Excuse:

The Louisville Herald alone discovered that Governor McCreary's opening address at Bowling Green was heard by a handful of people. The Louisville Post, Judge O'Rear's organ, placed the crowd that heard the Democratic leader at 5,000, and this was a conservative estimate. Of course as Mr. Shafer, the editor of the Herald, lives in Chicago, and gets his news of Kentucky politics by freight, he must be excused for making such ridiculous blunders.

Republicans and Militarism.

Governor McCreary's criticism of Governor Willson for spending over $270,000 for militia purposes struck Judge O'Rear on his funny bone. He did not see why the Democratic candidate should get excited because Willson "had spent a few thousand dollars calling out the troops." Bradley, Taylor and Willson all depended on the soldiers. Republican Governor have an abiding faith in the military when they want their policies enforced. Would O'Rear act any differently as chief executive? Evidently not as his platform approves every act of the Willson Administration.

STOMACH LIVER LUNGS

Each of the chief organs of the body is a link in the Chain of Life. A chain is no stronger than its weakest link, the body no stronger than its weakest organ. If there is weakness of stomach, liver or lungs, there is a weak link in the chain of life which may snap at any time. Often this so-called "weakness" is caused by lack of nutrition, the result of weakness or disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Diseases and weaknesses of the stomach and its allied organs are cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. When the weak or diseased stomach is cured, diseases of other organs which seem remote from the stomach but which have their origin in a diseased condition of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, are cured also.

The strong man has a strong stomach. Take the above recommended "Discovery" and you may have a strong stomach and a strong body.

GIVEN AWAY.—Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, new revised Edition, is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Vera's Vacation

"I intended to stay the week end, but remained a month," said Vera.
"A month?" echoed Corrine.
"Yes; mother forwarded my trunk."
"Were you well acquainted at the hotel?"

"Didn't know a soul, excepting my cousin, who introduced me upon my arrival to five girls and one fellow. That fellow was simply crazy about tennis, golf and launching."

"Did you have your middy blouses with you?"

"Of course. I could see myself sailing already, when he grasped my hand, saying 'Good-bye, hope we meet again. I must hustle, as my train leaves in five minutes."

"That evening while waiting at the desk for some mail I did not expect, I met Mr. Evers. We stepped out on the porch and talked about sororities and fraternities until I was hoarse. Never before or since have I been so radiant. Just as I was trying to make my eyes not behave, he said: 'If you play bridge, my wife and I would be delighted to have you join us.' But I wasn't keen about it and begged to be excused as I felt chilled."

"Another young man would sit on the beach glancing admiringly at my stunning bathing suit. Once when I dropped my handkerchief, accidentally on purpose, he picked it up. 'Thank you kindly,' I said. 'Can you beat it?' Taking an ear trumpet from his pocket, he explained that he was stone deaf."

"How tragic," interrupted Corrine. "Weren't there any eligibles?"

"There was one prosperous, well-groomed athletic person, who was recently imported from France and couldn't converse in English."

"I thought you studied French?"

"Certainly, but all I could remember was 'Je vous aime et Tres bien.'"

"Did you like the hotel?"

"Oh, who wouldn't? Printed menu and finger bowls three times a day. Besides, the old ladies sat on the veranda, rocking and knocking, added zest to the visit."

"I forgot about Mr. Wilson, who escorted me to a dance across the bay. Upon entering the hall he said, 'I don't dance.'"

"Exciting; did you decorate the wall?"

"Until I met a young man who was devoted to himself. I saw his constantly after that. The money he spent on candy and flowers!"

"You're too particular, Vera. What was the trouble with him?"

"The trouble was a case of mistaken identity. He mistook me for my cousin, Vera Carter, who is heiress to a couple of millions. I suppose he works a year to make a splash for a few days."

"Another day a Mr. Johnston invited me to go automobiling. Everything was ideal until we had a puncture. The village was five miles away. We had to sit in the broiling sun for four hours, as Mr. Johnston protested he could not walk because he was subject to epileptic fits and had to be careful."

"It's a wonder you stayed away so long."

"Oh, there was a bachelor about 50 years old with loads of money."

"Vera!" declared Corrine in surprise. "You couldn't care for an old man like that?"

"No, because he was damaged. Had lost his right arm in an accident. But I was courteous to him because he expected his nephew home from Europe soon."

"I suppose you never saw the nephew."

"Indeed I have. I've seen him every evening since I came back and his uncle is going to be my uncle."

An Old-Fashioned Disease.

Every little while there comes along some person of authority to jolt a little of the pride out of the human race. Just when everybody is feeling unusually jubilant over the advance of civilization, the spread of education or the growth of a new disease due to modern conditions, the wise man bobs up and tells us we're behind the times, that, in the words of the old song, "that story had paresis in the days of old Rameeses."

Now the wise man has stood up in his place to tell us that we're not so fast a people after all, that the disease of the heart of which we've been so fond, fancying it came from our strenuousness, is literally as old as the pyramids, that the Egyptians suffered its pains in their time.

It is a Chicago heart specialist who thus knocks into a cocked hat our pet theories regarding degeneration of the arteries, which we've been proud to believe peculiar to modern high speed conditions. Now this man takes pains to point out that anatomical research upon mummies shows the prevalence of arterio-sclerosis in the pyramid days. He adds that it often is superinduced by diseases which probably were as widespread then as now.

KIPLING TAKES PEN IN HAND

Author Warns Canadians
Against Reciprocity.

SAYS ODDS TOO GREAT

Believes Ratio of Ten to One in Population Handicap For Dominion in Struggle For Existence—Likens United States Unto Spendthrift Who Has Squandered Inheritance Before Middle Age and Now Seeks Cheaper Living.

Ottawa, Ont., — Rudyard Kipling is the latest recruit to the anti-reciprocity cause. The Montreal Star got him to write a letter to the editor and it was cabled to the Star and printed. This is it:

"I don't understand how nine million people can enter into such arrangements as are proposed with ninety million strangers on an open frontier of 4,000 miles and at the same time preserve their national integrity.

"Ten to one is too heavy odds. No single Canadian would accept such odds in any private matter that was as vital to him personally as this is to the nation.

"It is her own soul that Canada risks today. Once that soul is pawned for any consideration, Canada must inevitably conform to the commercial, legal, financial, social and ethical standards which will be imposed upon her by the sheer admitted weight of the United States.

"She might, for example, be compelled later on to admit reciprocity in the murder rate of the United States, which at present I believe is something over 150 per 1,000,000 per annum.

"If these proposals had been made a generation ago, or if the Dominion were today poor, depressed and without hope, one would perhaps understand their being discussed, but Canada is none of these things. She is a nation, and as the lives of nations are reckoned will ere long be among the great nations.

"Why, then, when she has made herself what she is, should she throw the enormous gifts of her inheritance and her future into the hands of a people, who by their haste and waste have so dissipated their own resources that even before national middle age they are driven to seek virgin fields for cheaper food and living?

"Whatever the United States may gain, and I presume that the United States' proposals are not wholly altruistic, I see nothing for Canada in reciprocity except a little ready money, which she does not need, and a very long repentance."

MURDERER CAUGHT ON VISIT TO HOME

Had Escaped Jail and Was Believed Dead in Mountains.

Unlontown, Ky., Sept. 8.—B. Frank Smith, the double murderer who broke jail nine weeks ago, was arrested here when he ventured from the mountains for the first time to greet his wife at their home. Cleverly disguised, Smith managed to walk boldly through Unlontown until he reached his home on the outskirts.

His wife was surprised to see him, for it had been supposed that Smith had either starved or killed himself while outlawed in the mountains between this place and Cumberland. Others had seen the stranger walk into the Smith residence and soon the police had the tip and a sheriff's posse was at the house.

ana did some excellent work with small arms.

The night work exceeded expectations and the high scores registered by the gunners greatly pleased Admiral Osterhaus. Today the entire fleet, excepting the cruiser Washington, will participate in aeroplane shooting. Every ship in the fleet has from three to five aeroplanes on board, and it is presumed that the gunners will be called on to destroy them at heights ranging from 500 to 1,200 feet.

So Impractical!

"You can't please some men," says the strong-jawed woman. "Now, take my husband, for example. He is never satisfied with what we have for dinner."

"Why don't you find out what he likes and make up your menus from the list?" asks the friend.

"I know what he likes. He has told me often enough. But practically every dish he suggests is something I haven't any use for."—Judge.

Keep Up the Alimony.

"Now," asked the lawyer who was drawing up the will, "is there anything more that you wish to have mentioned?"

"You've just said I want all my just debts paid, have you?"

"Yes."

"Well, just add that the women to whom I have been paying alimony are to have their regular allowances right along."

Laws in Primitive Times.

Throughout the dark ages of Europe an accused person had to carry a piece of red-hot iron for some distance in his hand or to walk nine feet barefooted over ploughshares at white heat. The hand or foot was bound up and inspected three days afterward. If the defendant had escaped unburnt he was pronounced innocent. If he had been burned he was declared guilty.

Barbecue a Grand Success.

With a crowd numbering fully twelve thousand people in attendance, the Ninth District Democratic Barbecue, held near Carlisle yesterday, passed off auspiciously. The early morning trains passing through this city carried many extra coaches to accommodate the large number of passengers that attended.

Specials were run from all branches of the road and passed through Paris crowded to the guards. The early trains carried such celebrities as Senator McCreary, of Richmond, Democratic candidate for Governor, and his running mate, Hon. E. J. McDermott, of Louisville, and prominent politicians from every section of the State, while others went through in automobiles.

Addressees were made by Democratic leaders of this and other states. From this point fully three hundred tickets were sold over the L. & N. while a large number who attended the barbecue went in automobiles.

The play relates the experiences in keeping store and making love of a youthful ne'er-do-well who is pushed out into the world to seek his fortune and ends by earning it. Two acts transpose in a drug store—the second showing a run-down old fashioned establishment in a sleepy Pennsylvania town, and the third a smart "Pharmacy" that succeeds as a result of the young hero's enterprise.

"The Fortune Hunter," Messrs. Cohen and Harris' production of Winchell Smith's delightful comedy of rural life, will be offered for a return engagement at the Lexington Opera House for two nights Monday and Tuesday September 18 and 19, with Tuesday matinee.

Fred Nibley, one of America's best comedians as Nathaniel Duncan who develops an unknown business acumen during the working out of the scheme of fortune hunting heads the cast of competent players.

The old druggist inventor, whose daughter is an unconscious incentive in the building of Nat Duncan's character, is played by Frank Bacon, the veteran actor of character parts. The daughter, Betty, is portrayed by Miss Josephine Cohen of the famous "Four Cohans." The scheming friend, Harry Kellogg, a Wall street broker, is taken by Daniel Hamilton. The rural sheriff, who believes all matrimony is a failure, played by Frank Bouman, the banker, "Blinky" Lockwood, whose fortune is the basis of the scheme played by Noah Berry, and the banker's daughter, by Miss Lento Fulwell are the other principal parts of the comedy.

Geo. M'Williams,

Groceryman Wounded by Negro.

Luther Hunt, a groceryman, who conducts a store at Currentsville, about five miles from Paris on the Peacock pike, was shot and seriously wounded by Walter Johnson, colored Wednesday afternoon as the result of a difficulty in which the men had engaged several days ago. Johnson was arrested a short time after the shooting and landed in jail.

The difficulty which led up to the shooting occurred last Saturday night in the store of Hunt at Currentsville. Johnson had been a customer at the store and had previously purchased on credit a quantity of supplies, for which he had never paid. Hunt insisted upon a settlement of the account which the negro refused to pay and the groceryman is alleged to have struck him.

Hunt resides with his sister, Mrs. Albert Talbot, about two miles from Paris and Tuesday night it is said the negro was seen about the vicinity of the Talbot home and during the night a number of shots were fired around the house. Hunt came to Paris Wednesday and was returning home and at the same time the negro was coming in the direction of the city.

Johnson concealed himself in a cornfield and as Hunt passed he fired upon him with a shotgun, the contents taking effect in his left arm, side and leg, inflicting dangerous wounds. Johnson came to Paris and going to the court house endeavored to have a peace warrant sworn out against Hunt. While there County Attorney George Batterton received information of the shooting and had Deputy Sheriff Talbot place the negro under arrest. In default of $300 bond he was sent to jail to await his examination.

Hunt is aged about 38 years and is unmarried. Dr. Frank Fithian attended the injured man, who is resting easy and unless complications set in will recover.

Bourbon Horses Win.

Bourbon horses are winning blue ribbons at the State Fair in Louisville this week. Harmon, the yearling stallion, owned by Collins & Redmon, of North Middleboro, won the first premium Monday, and Forrest Maiden, owned by Mr. Sanford Carpenter, of Millersburg, also won a blue ribbon.

The handsome two-year-old roaster stallion, Charming King, belonging to Mr. H. A. Power, of Paris, was awarded first premium also. He was exhibited by Mr. Allie Jones. This horse was awarded two first premiums at the Bourbon Fair last week.

Of the exhibit of Bourbon horses Wednesday the Louisville Times says:

"When crowds hissed their disapproval of the judges' decision in the combined harness and saddle horse ring, for stallions of any age, last night, they did not realize that their favorite, 'Roosevelt,' owned by Collins & Redmon, of North Middleboro, Ky., had a false tail, and that this marvelous horse was disqualified and the ribbon awarded W. M. and A. G. Jones' 'Marvel King.'

A. G. Jones' Charming King took second premium in the light harness stallion class and Marvel King captured the ribbon in the ring for four-year-old stallions. S. C. Carpenter's Beautyspot also won a blue tie.

Pooling Plan Formulated.

The executive board of the Burley Tobacco Society was in session the greater part of Tuesday evening, discussing the ten-year pooling plan and establishment of a mammoth tobacco manufactory in which growers will be the principal stockholders, with millionaire James B. Haggins as financial bracer of the deal.

C. B. Berryman, manager of Haggins' 8,000 acre farm, Elmerford, and personal representative of Mr. Haggins, and Haggins' Attorney, John T. Shelby, and Col. John R. Allen, representing the society, were present and went over the entire proposition.

During the day an agreement was reached between James B. Haggins, the most extensive grower of white burley in the world and the Burley Society by which Mr. Haggins consented to pool his five hundred acre product this year and whatever he produces in the next ten years in the Burley Society. If this is done it will assure a pool of this year's crop.

Many of the biggest producers in Kentucky, Ohio and Indiana have assured the Burley Society that when Haggins joined they would sign the ten-year pooling arrangement now under consideration, and will take stock in the two and a quarter-million dollar warehouse proposed to be built at Lexington under mutual arrangements by growers themselves.

Valuation of Kentucky Realty.

Before the close of this year there will be paid into the State Treasury $4,232,289.77 in taxes from the sheriffs, which will be used during 1912 to help defray the expenses of the state. Nearly as much money is received from the corporations for their franchise taxes, etc., so that in 1912 there will be more money or the new administration, Democratic or Republican, to spend than has ever been in the treasury before.

There has been a large increase in the valuation of real property and personal property during this administration, but the expenses of the government were much larger than in former years because the legislature has been more liberal in appropriating money, and because the expenses of operating the machinery of the state became increased by moving into the new capitol.

It is intended that each county pay its share, and the State Board of Equalization was created for that purpose—to see that each county pays its share. Sometimes there seems to be a hardship placed on one county, while a neighboring county gets off with a lighter load

IF YOU HAVE A SICKLY YOUNGSTER TRY THIS FREE

The family with young children that is without sickness in the house now and then is rare, and so it is important that the head of the house should know what to do in the little emergencies that arise. A child with a serious ailment needs a doctor, it is true, but in the majority of instances, as any doctor knows, the child suffers from some intestinal trouble, usually constipation.

There is no sense in giving it a pill or a remedy containing an opiate, nor is flushing of the bowels to be always recommended. Rather give it a small dose of a mild, gentle laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepson, which, by cleaning out the bowels and strengthening the little stomach muscles, will immediately correct the trouble.

This is not alone our opinion but that of Mrs. N. H. Mead of Freeport, Kan., whose granddaughter has been taking it successfully and of Mrs. J. R. Whiting of Lena, Wis., who gives it to her children and takes it herself. It is sold in fifty cent and one dollar bottles at every drug store, but if you want to test it in your family before you buy it send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will forward a trial bottle free of charge.

Address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Hardly a Compliment. A vicar was taken ill and his church warden sought a substitute when the bishop of the diocese offered to take the Sunday services himself. The church warden at the close of the service went up to the bishop and after thanking him stammered out: "A poorer preacher would have done for us, your lordship, but we were unable to find one."

MRS. SLAPDASH ERRED

"MACHINE" MEANT NOTHING BUT AUTOMOBILE TO HER.

So She Has Her Say Before Mrs. Mousegray Can Explain It Is a Sewing Machine.

"My machine," began the meek little lady.

"Oh, yes, your machine," broke in Mrs. Slapdash hurriedly. "Are you having trouble with it? Now, really, that's too bad! We have a machine that never gives us the slightest cause for worry. Why, Mrs. Mousegray, we drove out to Osprey last week—80 miles and return—and we did not find it necessary to make a single repair, either on the road or after we reached home. Mr. Gogglesby—our neighbor, you know—says that it is a truly wonderful performance. But, then, you understand, we have one of the new 1912 model Hurry-ups."

"But my machine," began Mrs. Mousegray again.

"Yes, yes, I know!" went on Mrs. Slapdash breezily. "You really should have taken expert advice before buying. Of course, you not having lived here very long, I don't know all of the circumstances; but I am certain that you would have found it to your advantage. When I say expert advice, I do not mean the advice of those horrid, insistent salesmen; they, of course, desire only to advertise the merits of their own machines. But there are plenty of owner-drivers—like Mr. Slapdash or myself—who would cheerfully have given you the benefit of their experience!"

"I ought to tell you," broke in the meek little lady—"I ought to tell you that when I spoke of my machine I did not mean—"

"I know you didn't mean to say that it is any better than other machines, my dear. I did not suppose that you intended any vulgar boasting. We—Mr. Slapdash and myself—have been through just what you are undergoing now, and I assure you that we would have appreciated little valuable advice at the right moment. That, of course, explains my interest in your trouble. We tried a dozen different makes, and finally chose the 1912 'Hurryup' because it runs easily—"

"But, Mrs. Slapdash," interposed Mrs. Mousegray, "my machine runs as easily as I could wish; and I think you mistake my meaning because my machine is—"

"Now, Mrs. Mousegray, please do not believe that I am trying to belittle your machine. I wouldn't do it for the world! I only thought that perhaps you intended purchasing a new machine and Mr. Slapdash and I—I hope you are not offended!"

"O, not at all!" deprecated Mrs. Mousegray. "But please let me explain. The shuttle on my machine does not work properly, and I only wanted to ask you if you could tell me where I can get a man to fix it."

"The shuttle? The shuttle? What make is your machine?" questioned Mrs. Slapdash, wonderingly.

"That's what I wanted to tell you," replied Mrs. Mousegray. "It's a ball-bearing, lock-stitch sewing machine."

Eels for the Irish.

When so many hard things are being said about the house of lords it should be kept in mind that they have just affirmed the claim of certain Irishmen to the exclusive right to fish for eels in Lough Neagh for a period of five thousand years from July 1, 1905. It is an affirmation that raises an inquiry as to whether or not the people of Ireland eat eels. Scots—even London Scots—never touch them, and a Scotch angler, catching an eel, promptly throws it away. Eels used to be associated with snakes, "just as men of every race entertain an instinctive horror for snakes," writes Sir Herbert Maxwell, "so there remain traces of the same feeling about eels."

It seems somewhat unkind of Sir Herbert to state that most civilized races have overcome this long ago, and then to add that there exists among the Scots a strong and universal prejudice against eels.—London Chronicle.

Was the Culprit Himself?

A tall, urbane man, with a black mustache, was a guest at a fashionable dinner in New York not long ago, when the lady on his right, after mentioning that she had just returned from a trip to Europe, proceeded to "roast" William Loeb Jr., the collector of customs for the city. She panned that official to a rich, dark brown, and did it in such a witty manner that the tall, urbane gentleman laughed uproariously. "I think the appropriate death for him," she said, "would be choking with Irish lace and I'd like to contribute some of the lace for the purpose." After dinner she asked her hostess: "What was the name of the black-mustached man on my left, dear? He talked so intelligently about the custom house." "I should think he would," replied the hostess. "That was Loeb himself!"

Had He Kept Count?

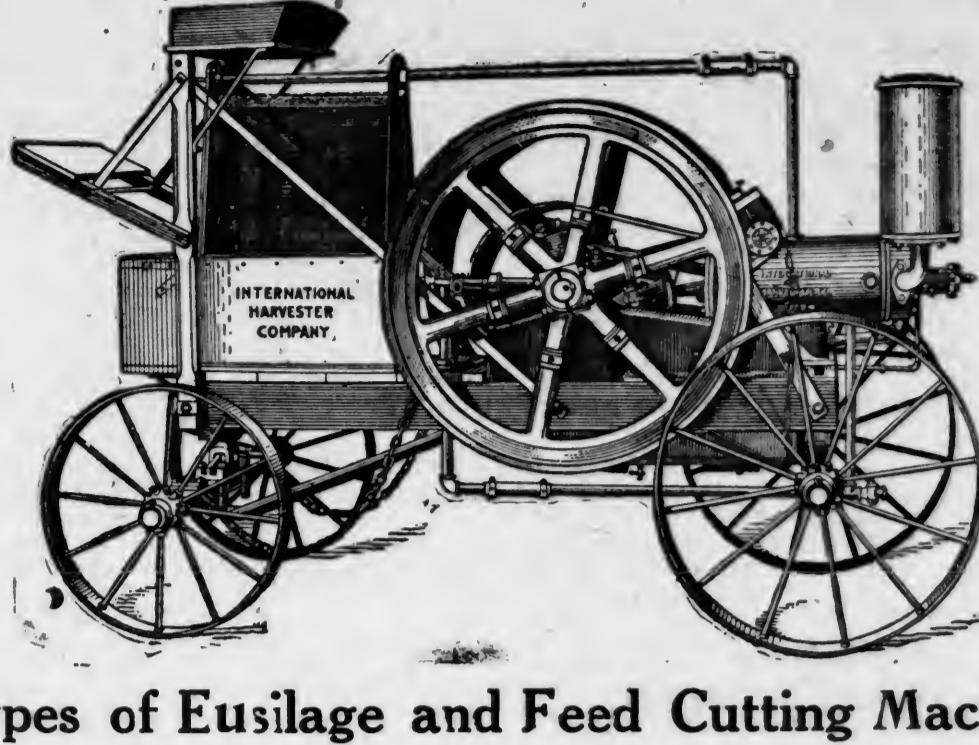

Ethel—All is over between us. Here are your presents. A gold locket and chain, a diamond ring, and a pearl necklace.

Herbert—There are some other things I gave you, I insist upon being returned!

Ethel—What are they?

Herbert—Seven thousand, three hundred and fifty-one kisses.

White is Held to be "Not Guilty"

The jury in the case of Anse White, of Breathitt county, on trial in the Montgomery Circuit Court last week for the murder of Jason Deaton near Jackson several months ago returned a verdict of not guilty late Saturday night.

The testimony in the case, which began Tuesday, was concluded Saturday afternoon when the arguments were begun. Hon. A. Floyd Byrd, of Lexington, closed the arguments for the defense.

Deaton, in connection with the Davison brothers and Hacker Combs, are indicted in the Breathitt court charged with the murder of John Abner in Jackson. On a change of venue the case was tried in the Bourbon Circuit Court last November, with Special Judge Halbert sitting, resulting in the acquittal of the accused.

On that occasion, Byrd, who defended White for the murder of Deaton, assisted Attorney R. B. Franklin in the prosecution.

The case on trial at Mt. Sterling excited considerable attention on account of the parties concerned being connected with the Breathitt feuds. More than a hundred witnesses were summoned in the case.

KENTUCKY STATE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

Statement of Principles Upon Which the Party Bases its Position Upon Matters of Public Policy.

Section 1. We, the Democrats of Kentucky, in delegate convention duly assembled and held in the city of Louisville, Kentucky, on August 15, 1911, do hereby pledge anew our faith in and devotion to the time honored and eternal principles of our party first promulgated in the Declaration of Independence and since reaffirmed in successive platforms of the party, and we especially reaffirm our faith in and devotion to the National Democratic platform adopted at Denver, Colorado, in the year 1908.

Sec. 2. We denounce the Republican party and the present Republican President, for their flagrant and willful betrayal of the trust reposed in them by the American people and call attention especially to the fact that they have willfully disregarded their pre-election promises to the effect that they would revise downward the unjust tariff system and would relieve the masses of the people of the heavy burdens of unjust and unnecessary taxation.

On the contrary the Republicans enacted the odious Payne-Aldrich tariff law of 1909, pronounced by Mr. Taft to be "the best Republican tariff law ever passed," which law was a gross breach of the Republican President and his political party. This tariff law, in order to enrich the few, increased the burdens of the many, and authorized those favored few not only to continue, but to increase, their robbery of the many under the forms of law.

Sec. 3. We point with pride to, and heartily endorse the patriotic record made by the present Democratic members of Congress and Democratic Senators, in their efforts over determined Republican opposition to, in good faith, redeem the promises of the Democratic party to repeal unjust and oppressive Republican laws, and to enact wise and just laws for the benefit of the great masses of the people, and we invite all to contrast the aims and record of the Democrats in the house and senate of the present session of congress with the aims and record of the Republicans and especially with the Republican session of 1909 which enacted the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

We especially endorse the record of our Democratic congressmen and senator from Kentucky for their fidelity in keeping the promises of their party and representing the people and not the interests, and we denounce the record of the Republican congressmen and senator from Kentucky, because they have represented not the people, nor have they sought to relieve their burdens, but have represented the privileged, protected interests of the country.

Sec. 4. Kentucky is, and of right ought to be, a Democratic state, and the Democratic party in appealing for the support of the electorate of the state eagerly invites an intelligent comparison of the records it has made with those made by its political adversary during the temporary occasions it has controlled the affairs of the state.

As against the Republican record in Kentucky of assassination, bloodshed and disregard of law, we present the Democratic picture of peace, scrupulous regard for human life and a strict observance of, and respect for law; as against an empty treasury and rejection and shaving of honest demands against the state, we present a picture of a magnificent state capitol erected and paid for without any extra tax, and every just claim against the state promptly met and paid in full; as against platform pledges and promises broken and made to be broken, we present a record of all pledges and promises faithfully kept; as against hypocrisy, demagogery and incompetency we present a record of sincerity, fidelity, competency and statesmanship.

We charge the Republican party both in the state and in the nation with gross extravagance and willful waste in the expenditure of the people's money, and we pledge ourselves to retrenchment and reform, and to an economical business administration of public affairs.

Sec. 5. We are in favor of a direct primary election law, providing that all primary elections shall be conducted under lawful authority and at public expense, and to be regulated in the same manner and subject to the same penalties for violations, as in case of regular elections.

Sec. 6. We favor the enactment of an explicit and effective corrupt practice act, which shall determine what campaign expenses shall be legitimate, and which shall provide for the compulsory publication in detail, under heavy penalties, of the campaign expenses of every candidate for public office.

Sec. 7. We favor the enacting of such additional laws as will make our entire common school system more efficient and more practical.

We pledge our support to our school system and the educational institutions of the state, wisely and economically administered. Money appropriated for the education of the people is an investment and not an expense; school trustees, school boards and all school officials should be held rigidly responsible for adequate returns on every dollar so invested. We charge the Republican party with neglect of and indifference toward our school system.

Recognizing that a large majority of the teachers of our common schools are women and that women are now eligible to be elected school trustees, county school superintendent, and to hold office, and are frequently so elected, we favor the extension to women of suffrage in all school elections, subject to such wise regulations as to qualifications as the general assembly may determine.

Sec. 8. We favor such laws as will, under appropriate penalties, destroy all current lobbying seeking to influence any legislative body in the Commonwealth on the subject of legislation or the election of officers by it, or in any other matter; but we recognize the constitutional right of the people to petition to be impartially heard on all questions.

Sec. 9. We favor, under wise and proper restrictions, the creation of a State Utilities Commission, having ample powers to discharge its duties.

Sec. 10. We favor a change in the present method of selecting the prison commissioners of the state, and the removal of all politics from the management of penal institutions. While commanding the present board of prison commissioners for its successful management of the institutions under its care, we recognize that the system of election by the legislature, under which they are elected, is unwise, and we therefore favor such a change as will place their appointments in the hands of the governor, subject to confirmation by the senate, or some other method such as the general assembly may provide.

Sec. 11. We favor a law requiring that a uniform system of accounting be installed and conducted in all public offices charged with the collection and disbursement of public moneys.

Sec. 12. We favor the general assembly submitting to a vote of the people whether or not they desire to adopt an amendment of our State Constitution broadening the powers of the general assembly, so that it may classify property for the purposes of taxation; but we are opposed to any law the effect of which would be to lighten the burdens of taxation on the wealthy and on corporations at the expense of the poor, the farmer or the laboring man.

Sec. 13. Temperance is essentially a moral, non-political and social question, and should not be made a partisan issue between political parties.

We favor the extension of the present local option law, as applied to the sale of liquors, which has been upheld by our highest court as valid and constitutional, so that the citizens of each and every county in the state may determine for themselves whether spirituous, vinous or malt liquors may be sold therein.

Sec. 14. We favor organization and co-operation among the farmers and laborers of the state, and the enactment of such constitutional laws as will protect them from the greed and oppression of the trusts and monopolies of the country, which are the direct fault of Republican legislation.

Sec. 15. We favor such wise and conservative laws as will encourage road and bridge building in Kentucky, and we favor reasonable state aid for the construction of roads and bridges, but only on condition that each county or local community, which is primarily benefited shall first do its part and discharge its duty to itself in this regard.

Sec. 16. We favor the creation, removed from politics, of a department of banking, providing for competent inspection of all our state financial institutions, and similar to the system now existing for national banks.

Sec. 17. We favor the enactment of such wise laws as will put into effect all sections and provisions of the State Constitution, and we declare that we are in favor of the enforcement of all laws.

Sec. 18. We favor the enactment of wise laws for the protection from accident and injury of all laborers engaged in hazardous employments, and we favor a wise, conservative law regulating the arbitration of labor strikes and disputes.

Sec. 19. We favor a law prohibiting peonage and female slave traffic, regardless of color.

Sec. 20. We are opposed to all mobs and lynchings and are in favor of imposing the severest penalty possible, under our Constitution, on all officers who fail to protect prisoners intrusted to their keeping.

Sec. 21. The Democratic party has always been the party of religious, as well as civil liberty, in Kentucky and in the republic. It refers with pride to its noble and consistent record on this important question, so "dear to every true American heart." We are in full accord, both in letter and in spirit, with the teachings of Thomas Jefferson, the founder of our party, on this question, and with the provisions of our State and Federal Constitutions, and we are unalterably opposed to raising any religious test as a qualification for holding any office in the state or nation.

Sec. 22. We favor the nomination and election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Sec. 23. We denounce and are opposed to Cannonism or one-man power in all representative assemblies, whether it be in the congress or in representative conventions. We favor the "rule of the people."

Sec. 24. On the platform of principles and on the aims and purposes of our party in the state and in the nation, we appeal to all Kentuckians, irrespective of previous political affiliations, who are proud of the past and desire a still more prosperous, more progressive present and future, for all our people, to support our magnificent state ticket, including our nominee for the United States senatorship, and our nominees for general assembly and for other offices.

Rye as a Cover Crop.

Cover crops should be grown in Kentucky much more than they are. No matter in what section of the State one may travel, he may see during the winter, many corn and tobacco fields lying bare. The writer has seen many such fields in the most fertile sections of the State as well as in the poorest. To leave cultivated fields in this condition means great loss. The fields wash, some very badly, all of them some unless they are absolutely level. The cultivation of the previous season has developed available plant food that the crop did not use. Much of this may be lost by leaching. A cover crop will bind the soil and prevent washing. It will use up the available plant food left by the preceding crop. This will be returned to the soil whether the over crop is turned under or pastured. The roots of the cover crop greatly improve the physical condition of the soil, especially is this true of rye. Fields of poor till are sometimes put in good condition by one rye cover crop.

Rye is the best non-leguminous crop in Kentucky. The seed is cheap.

It will grow on a wide variety of soils.

It may be sown as early as September 1 or as late as November 1.

It will make a better growth on winter soils than any other winter cover crop, yet

it responds to the use of fertilizers and manures. When 4 to 6 inches high it is a most excellent pasture for pigs, while in its later stages it is a splendid pasture for all animals. The remnants may be turned under in time to prepare the ground for the next crop.

The Experimental Station makes a practice of sowing rye in the corn ground. This is pastured and the ground then prepared for cowpeas or soy beans, which are planted about

June first. This crop comes on in time to give the ground good preparation for wheat. Clover follows wheat.

Use two bushels of rye per acre, and put it in well.

The cover crop not only prevents washing, saves fertility, and provides pasture, but it adds humus to the soil.

Try rye as a cover crop if you have not done so.

Orders Inquiry into Vote Selling.

In his charge to the Franklin county grand jury at the beginning of the September term of the Circuit Court Monday Judge Robert L. Stout dwelt at some length on vote selling, and directed an investigation to ascertain if the practice is indulged to any extent in that community. He referred to the disclosures made several months since in Adams county, O., and said that while he had no information of such violation of law in Franklin county, yet it would be well for every community to look into its affairs, that the bad custom of trafficking in votes would not become general.

Big Wheat Deal.

Mr. H. C. Bright, of Lexington, who has been in Danville for several weeks purchasing wheat last week closed a deal for several crops amounting in the aggregate to 10,000 bushels, for which he paid 90 cents per bushel. He bought the crops of several prominent Boyle farmers. This is the highest price that has been paid for wheat this season.
